Ralph Norwood, Mrs. Lucy Norwood, Pauline Reed and Earle Reed of Lovell, Mass., are spending a two week's vacation at Amasa Robbins' cottage by Lake Penesseewassee.

The camps along the shore of the lake are nearly all occupied. Around the islands one is reminded of a "city on the water" when all the boats are out patrolling the waters.

Irving Frost was at home, Sunday. He reports business booming at Poland Springs. His daughter Minnie has a good job in the office of Fields Bros., and Gross' shoe shop.

Mrs. R. M. Swan and grand-daughter, Frances Bartholomew, are spending the month of July with Arthur H. Swan and family, who have a cottage at North Weymouth, Mass., for the summer.

Who can beat it? C. R. Whitman had green peas and new potatoes on July 1st for dinner. Open air culture. No forcing. Name of peas, Knatt's Excelsior. Name of potatoes, Bupee's best early. Lets hear from others.

The wind blew a gale all day the Fourth and had it not been for the showers previous we would have seen more dust and dirt in the air. The lake was decidedly ruff but the steamers ran their regular trips, besides making several specials.

A very pleasant carriage drive and outing in Waterford was recently enjoyed by a party from Norway. Among them were Mrs. F. E. Frost and daughters, Messrs. A. Noyes and Alfred Monk, also Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Greenleaf of Otisfield. Lunch was eaten at Mrs. Frost's and Mrs. Greenleaf's birthplace, on Crooked river.

Harry Morse's baseball team went to Harrison, the fourth, and played two interesting games of base ball. The first game was 6 to 0, the second 4 to 0 both in favor of Harrison. The teams were not very evenly matched, as the Harrison boys were much the larger, but notwithstanding the difference the Norway boys put up a very good game of base ball and all the boys played well.

There was a good attendance at the Opera House Monday evening, when the farce-drama "Along the Kennebec" was presented. The play represented the country in a rural district and the acting was unusually good. The scenery was also first class. During the action of the play there were incidents continually happening which kept the audience in a continual peal of laughter.

The fourth this year was ushered in as the clocks were striking the hour of twelve in its usual way by the ringing of the church bells and the serenading with canon crackers and crackers of all kinds. The boys, as well as the girls were out early celebrating, exchanging signs, removing faces and up to all sorts of tricks as well as "being noisy." On Water street some who felt like "raising Cain," even went to the trouble to put a sleigh astride the ridge pole of Danborn's home and the body of another over the chimney.

Oxford, Co. Patriotic Association.

The third annual meeting of the Oxford County Patriotic Association was held July 4th at Central Park, located between South Paris and Norway. About 200 were present. Led by life and drum corps they marched to the hall, where a business meeting was held. O. A. Maxim presiding. Rev. Mr. Little offered prayer; secretary's report read and accepted as was the treasurer's. A vote of thanks was extended to Orono. Has set for use of park and hall. After some other business had been disposed of came the election of officers:

Pres.—Rev. J. H. Little, Bethel.
V. Pres.—Mrs. Ellen Curtis, South Paris.
Treas.—A. E. True, Bethel.
Sec.—Mac R. Bartlett, Bethel.

Executive Com.—Mrs. Helen Childs, South Paris; Mrs. Jessie Monk, South Paris; Dr. Wendell Rounds, South Paris; Clara Jordan, Norway; Addie Nelson, Norway; Ed. Kneeland, Norway; Oscar Needham, Norway; G. A. Holman, Bryant Pond; William Bridgman, Buckfield; C. Mory, Buckfield; Levi Bartlett, Bethel; Mrs. Mae R. Bartlett, Bethel; Miss E. West Sumner, Mrs. Helen Colburn, West Sumner; Mrs. Blanche Merrill, Hebron; Mr. Eastman, Fryeburg; John Sawyer and wife, Canton; Mrs. Martha Black, North Waterford; Mrs. M. M. Patrick, North Waterford; Mrs. Rebecca Jereason, Rumford Falls; Col. William Knutson, Dixfield.

Col. Easton at once came forward at the call for a speech and made a telling one as regards the keeping of the association and its object before the public. Adjourned till 130.

Coffee was served by William Kimball Post, South Paris, and for the next hour the lunch box was much in evidence.

The executive committee met at 1:30 and voted to hold the next annual meeting at Central Park, June 17, 1911, and that Harry Rust Post and W. R. C. of Norway furnish coffee; and did someone say "amen"? Let us hope so. After the committee meeting came the Camp Fire, that most pleasing feature of all. Led by Rev. Mr. Davis, all joined in singing that grand old hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

Rev. Mr. Davis' interesting words made by Mrs. Sarah Putnam pertaining to the organization as it is, and what it may be in the future. An original poem was read by Mrs. Alice Maxim, entitled "A Word to Old Glory," which is given below. Mrs. Mae R. Bartlett gave a humorous recitation, "A Boy's Diary," which was enjoyed by all. We could almost see the boy as she recited his troubles. Comrades Warren and Bridgman gave several selections on life and death. This was great. Rev. Mr. Davis rendered two solos, "My Mother's Prayer," and "The Ninety and Nine," but the event of the day was in the speech by Rev. J. H. Little, Dept. Chaplain of Maine G. A. R. It was a talk with going straight to the heart, a grand word picture of the Civil war from the lips of one who had been in the midst of it and knew whereof he spoke.

Col. Easton told of the many battles of the Civil war that were won on the 4th of July by the Boys in Blue, many of which came from old Oxford County. The remarks by Rev. Mr. Davis were appreciated. His talk was illustrated by Bible and flag. The Camp Fire furnished songs, readings and recitations, after which they were invited to the dining room for a treat of punch and candy.

Brother E. E. Wood was reported as better but still very sick.

The regular meeting comes next Saturday.

Rev. William C. Stiles, who has occupied the Congregational church for the three Sunday just past, returned Monday to his home in New York.

Democratic Convention.

One of the Largest Conventions Ever Held Here.

The Democratic Convention was held at South Paris, July 2, and was very largely attended.

The chairman, B. G. McIntire, of the county committee called the convention to order at 10:45 after considerable delay while the list of delegates was being filled out. The secretary, W. O. Frothingham, read the call for the meeting.

B. G. McIntire announced Matthew McCarthy of Rumford as the choice of the county committee for temporary chairman of the convention.

Mr. McCarthy expressed his gratitude for the honor bestowed on him to preside over the convention. He said he should not make a speech, still he wished to say that the size of the convention indicated a wonderful amount of interest on the part of the democrats, and that there is a great enthusiasm in all the conventions this year.

Frank E. DeCoster of Norway and L. R. Rounds of Waterford, were chosen temporary secretaries. The county committee was appointed a committee on credentials and reported that 96 delegates were entitled to seats and that 96 delegates were present, either in person or by proxy.

The choice of a committee on resolutions was next to be chosen. M. L. Kimball of Norway, moved that the excellent platform of the state convention and the resolutions of the district convention be adopted as the platform of the convention and the motion was carried.

The nominations of candidates for the officers were as follows: Senator, Alfred S. Kimball of Norway; Treasurer, Orlando A. Thayer of South Paris; County Attorney, Matthew McCarthy of Rumford; County Commissioners for 6 years, Adolphus D. Fessenden of Denmark; County Commissioner for 2 years, Y. A. Thurston of Andover; Register of Deeds, L. R. Rounds of Waterford; Register of Deeds of Western District; Jason W. Towle of Fryeburg; Clerk of Courts, Charles Cotton of Hiram; Sheriff, B. G. McIntire of Waterford.

M. L. Kimball suggested that the county committee be chosen, one from each representative district, with the members of the state and district committees, making a committee of nine with the member of the state committee ex-officio chairman, and this suggestion was accepted and Chairman Mr. McCarthy nominated, J. F. Hall, Rumford, Dr. F. W. Morse, Canton, M. L. Kimball, Norway, F. L. Edwards, Bethel, B. G. McIntire, Waterford, John Hutchins, Fryeburg and W. O. Frothingham to nominate the County Committee.

After dinner the Convention reassembled and the committee who was to appoint the county committee reported as follows: J. M. Holland, Mexico, W. O. Frothingham, Paris, George W. Richardson, Greenwood, George F. Needham, Hebron Station, H. D. E. Hutchins, West Fryeburg, Matthew McCarthy, Rumford, Fred L. Edwards, Bethel. Chairman McCarthy, then introduced Daniel J. McGillicuddy of Lewiston. He first spoke of the high cost of living which he says is not due to wars or pestilence, but to the trusts which are absorbing the wealth of the people into the hands of a few. The original protectionists never dreamed of the condition which now exists. The trusts control legislators and shape tariffs for their own gain and profligate.

Mr. McGillicuddy then spoke of the immediate interests of the Second District in the tariff, but did not speak of the application to the district. As to the state finances, he said that Governor Fernald in his recent state convention speech answered some of the questions asked by Mr. McGillicuddy in the Democratic convention and that he failed to answer others.

Fred W. Plaisted was then introduced, who spoke for about one half hour, and devoted his time principally to state matters. He said that while the Republicans had been in control taxes had increased almost to the points of heart breaking.

The people are paying into the treasuries of the state, counties and towns ten and a half millions of dollars each year, earned by the people, and promised elected to reduce taxation instead of increasing it. He related in detail his experience as mayor of Augusta, where the Republican administration, in the year's interim between his third and fourth years, not only increased the tax rate, but used up the balance in the treasury and left $30,000 of debts. He promised if elected governor that he would find out how the state stands, as we can not under Republican administration.

Obadiah Gardner of Rockland was the last speaker and opened his speech by telling several stories.

Mr. Gardner said present conditions were alarming and predicted a great crisis unless there is soon a change in the management of affairs. It is up to the people. They must wake up and see things in their true light.

He spoke of the inequality in the division of the

Take It in Time.

Just as Scores of Norway People Have.

Waiting doesn't pay. If you neglect the aching back, Urinary troubles, diabetes, surely follow.

Doan's Kidney Pills relieve backache, Cure every kidney ill. Norway citizens endorse them.

Oscar I. Pitts, Cottage street, Norway, Me., says: "Several years ago I began to suffer from an acute attack of kidney trouble. I caught a severe cold which settled on my kidneys and brought on terrible pains in the small of my back. There seemed to be a congestion of my kidneys and it was only with great difficulty that I was able to pass my urine. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and decided to try them. I procured a box from Stone's drug store. They helped me from the first and after taking the contents of a few boxes I was cured. I have not had any trouble from my kidneys since. I am glad to give Doan's Kidney Pills my highest endorsement."

The Burial of the Porcupine.

Written for the Advertiser.

There was many a porcupine descended from the hills to the plain. To feast upon the sweet corn. That he returned again.

For the farmer ever vigilant. Sensed him in the night. As he searched among the growing grain. With his quills erect and light.

Where the whip-poor-will's shrill song was heard to echo through the night, The sunshine and the rain, Woke the stillness of the night.

But we thought as we hastily filled up his grave By our lantern flickering light. As the doubtful thought of our heavy spades, Woke the stillness of the night.

Of the beautiful harvest God had given, The sunshine and the rain, To call from out the fertile soil The verdure of the plain.

How from the green hillside had come The creature of his care, And we so wistfully denied His presence in the air.

And how the whip-poor-will still would sing, But her voice so loud and clear. Silent on her back she found, Her nest could no more cheer.

O'er his trodden path Would interlace the weeds and brambles. And his lone home be desolate, Upon the mountain brow. With sudden hearts we turned away, As a repentant tear we gave To moisten the turf where the night dew fell On his cold and silent grave.

THE INTERVALS OF MAINE. When the winter days are over, And the streams are running free, And the first sweet bloom of clover, Sends its message to the bee.

When the crops are ripening, 'Mid the cowbells in the bays, And the trout up stream are leaping To the shadows of the firs, Then the water brooks are calling. In the old familiar strain.

To where the hills are falling In the intervals of Maine. There's a partridge's distant drumming, In the farthest of the dell, And a bumblebee's humming, 'Neath a honeysuckle bell.

There's an odor in the dingle Of the twin flower and the ferns, And the rustle of the eagle, Of the exile that returns, When the waterborks are calling, In the old familiar strain.

General Highway Improvement.

On Monday, June fourteenth, at the City House, in Augusta, Maine, was held the third meeting of the special committee of the State Grange appointed by the State Master, as a result of a resolution passed at the last annual meeting of the State Grange, to consider the matter of general highway improvement.

At the meeting held on the fourteenth representatives of the State Board of Trade and the Lewiston and Auburn Automobile Club were present, as well as the state commissioner of highways. These parties were all present at the second meeting of the committee some three weeks ago. At these two meetings the general road situation was talked over very thoroughly with especial reference to the maintenance and repair of the common dirt roads and the execution of the ordinary town road work.

At the meeting three weeks ago the committee was unanimous in its opinion that changes in highway maintenance rules and regulations for carrying on road work and authority for enforcing those rules and regulations. After three weeks of thought and study the committee were again unanimous in its opinion that this was the first step which must be taken in order to secure a change in the present-day maintenance.

As a basis for discussion and by way of opening the question at the meeting three weeks ago the state commissioner was called upon to briefly outline the new system of highway administration recently put into effect in the state of New York, where the State Commission has supervisory powers over the expenditure of all road money, whether raised by the town, the county or the state. Their scheme of administration briefly is as follows:

A State Highway Commission having supervision of all construction and maintenance work; county or district superintendents, the district superintendent being appointed by the State Commission to have charge of one or more counties where the Commissioners of such county or counties fail to appoint a superintendent; and finally the town superintendent who is elected by the voters of each town for a term of two years, but who may be recalled at any time after a hearing on charges of incompetence, malfeasance or misfeasance in office, preferred by the State Commission or by twenty-five voters in town.

The State Commission annually prescribes rule and regulations for the expenditure of town maintenance money. All work is done subject to the inspection of the county or district superintendent, whose orders must be obeyed, and who reports to the State Commission.

This system of supervision is made possible in New York state on account of the state paying a certain percentage of the cost of all maintenance work.

The committee of the State Grange and their associates in conference feel that the principles of intelligent centralized supervision is the first change which must be made in our present system to bring about very material changes in result.

It is the desire of the committee to give this idea as wide publicity and as general a circulation among the people of the State as possible.

The members of the committee are W. C. Hutton, Windrop, Maine; R. F. D.; George Alden, Gorham, Maine and E. M. Lawrence, Rockland, Maine.

The next meeting of the committee will be held at Augusta, on August first at the office of the state highway commissioner.

Letters commenting on or criticizing the conclusions of the committee as expressed in this letter may be addressed to any member of the committee or the state highway commissioner, Augusta, Maine, and all letters will be given consideration at the next meeting of the committee.

PAUL D. SARGENT.

A sudden attack at night of some form of Bowel Complaint may come to anyone. Every family should be provided with a bottle of Dr. RICHARDSON'S BALSA. Warranted by Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store.

Encourage the Farmers. Strawberry time is with us again with the luscious fruit we all love so well. Nothing more delightful comes to us through the year and nothing takes the back aching work to bring it to perfection as this same strawberry.

Yet I'll warrant we are at the same old business of trying to buy them for nothing, and the cheaper we buy them the more farmers are going out of business. In another year a commissioner will have to be appointed to see why strawberries are so high.

People won't crawl around in the dirt for us for nothing.

Yes, I know we are going to whine now and say, "how high everything is," and how hard it is to pay the bills, but I'll be bound we'll take in the heat show this week and go dressed in dainty clothes the farmer can't afford because he has been robbed of his just dues.

Isn't it about time we divided with him? Buy of the farmer and encourage him unless we want to see higher prices and worse times.

If ladies knew the back aching work it is to crawl around in the sun and mulech those strawberries that no particle of grit may affect their dainty taste, they wouldn't meet the strawberry man at the door with a firm determination to buy them at half price.

Let us see we wear no clothes or take in no pleasures this summer that rightfully belong to the strawberry man. We might as well go to a dentist and keep Morse company as know that we belong there.

Breeders of Horses

are invited to call at the stable of V.

E. DUNN and see VASISTAS

and four of the best colts that can be found in the State of Maine. Also at the stable of C. H. DUNN and G. L. CURTIS, Norway, Me. There are a large number of colts scattered over the country, not called on quite a number of my friends

there. Parker is the County Seat of Turner County and has a population of some twelve to fifteen hundred. We have a court house that cost us $30,000.

It is a model city with fine schools,

church, and other public buildings.

There are many large stores and dwellings, and no saloons.

It may be of interest to some of your readers to know that this part of South

Dakota is in the zone, cattle and hog belt, and that we do not raise, as many seem to think, all wheat. This section of the state is often called the "Cow

Counties" to distinguish them from the northern section where much wheat is raised, and the western section, where until the last few years, vast herds of cattle, sheep and horses have been kept.

But little wheat is raised in Turner

County, the main crops being corn, oats

and hay. Farm lands are increasing every year in value and now range all the way from sixty to one hundred and twenty-five dollars per acre.

At one p. m., Tuesday, I boarded the east bound Milwaukee train at Parker

and started out on my fourth annual vacation trip, of one thousand miles, to this bright land of summer flowers near the white washed shore of Lake Erie, and in the state of Ohio. How swift the train moves on. At Canton we cross the Mississippi at McGregor and are upon

Wisconsin soil, and at four a. m. Wednesday we reached Madison, the capital city of Wisconsin, three hundred and eighty miles from our starting point, and where I tarried until Friday noon, a self

invited guest of my old time friends,

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heald.

These good people have left nest in Center Lovell, nearly fifty years ago to seek their fortune in the west.

They lived for a while in Pennsylvania,

then tried their fortune in the wilds of

South Dakota at Broadland, Beddle

County, and later on Madison, Wisconsin,

that they might enjoy the advantages of its splendid University

for the higher education that their children wisely improved the opportunities that were given them is proved

by the fact that the son is now one of the leading professors in the University of Texas located at Houston, and the daughter, the honored wife of one of the foremost professors of the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Heald has been a carpenter as well as a farmer and quite a number of the substantial residences of Madison were built by him. His method was to buy a desirable lot and build thereon and then when he could get his price, sell and build again. He is now retired from active business and with his noble

wife and helpmate, they are now passing

the evening of their lives in their beautiful home on University Heights.

He owns several nearby city lots and he finds both pleasure and pleasure in planting and tending a fine garden. He also tends to the family horse and keeps

a year's supply of wood all fitted for the stove in his basement cellar. Mrs. Heald

buys herself with her household duties,

and as a pastime, she takes much pride

in the poultry in which she takes much pride

A half block away in a grand old mansion all their own, the daughter

with her husband and three bright eyed happy children, live, and the hearts of

"The Old Folks at Home" are often

cheered and made glad by the merry

laugh and joyous songs of the dear ones

that they love so well. That their last days may be their best days, and that they may live yet many years to enjoy

the fruits of a well spent life is the wish of their many friends.

Madison, besides being the Capital of Wisconsin, is the seat of the University of Wisconsin, which, with its five thousand student population forms the nucleus for a city of 30,000 population.

The city has a grand location between two lovely lakes, Mendota on one side and Monona on the other. These lakes are well stocked with fish, ranging in style and size from the "pumpkin" bull-

head to the royal Mackinac, measuring from four to six feet in length. The fishing law prohibits the catching of any of the latter that weigh less than four

lbs. As we are law abiding citizens we did not angle for any of these big fish,

but spent our time fishing with a three hour boat and with rod and line,

in which we landed 32 fine perch.

Madison, with its beautiful lakes, fine

fishing and boating, its fine streets and shady parks and with its magnificent

public and private buildings, is a city of which the citizens of our state of Wisconsin may well be proud.

With Mr. Heald as my guide, we traveled over the city and visited some of the public buildings. The Capitol building when completed will be a grand and noble structure. A few years ago, the old building, was badly damaged

by fire, it was condemned and a new one begun. The two wings have been completed and they are now at work on the central part which includes the great dome. I was told that the disaster that occurred to mar the building of one of the wings. The last great block of granite weighing many tons had been hoisted to its place in the apex of the gable, and with the man in charge standing upon it, was settling in its place and the tackle removed. But some one had blundered, the great stone below had not been keyed and made fast, and with a fearful crash the great stone, carrying

with it many others, fell to the pavement far below. But one life was lost, that of the man in charge. The stone was still lying where it fell, a mournful reminder of a forgetful man, who sacrificed his own life and endangered that of many others.

In one of the greenhouses of the horticultural building we saw cuneiform 17

inches long, they were hanging from a trellis, and some of them were eight feet

from the ground and growing wet.

When ripe they are out from the vine

and taken before the eye where they are investigated in a scientific manner by the students under instructions of a competent instructor. In the butter department I had a drink of buttermilk,

that had been separated from the butter

in a scientific manner. In the nearby pasture we saw a fine herd of Holstein cows.

In the big dairy barn we saw tons and tons of Quaker rolled oats in hundred

pound sacks to be fed to the same cows.

An attendant told us that they were

feeding them as an experiment in feeding

the cows. In the poultry department

we saw about a thousand bright, active incubator chickens, which looked as though they were better cared for with far less care and trouble than many an old mother hen could do.

The largest salmon caught in Sebago lake was that captured off Songo Bar by Lino Daniels, the famous guide in the summer of 1907. It was not a large salmon ever caught in Sebago lake but the biggest out of any lake in the world with hook and line. It was of the "hawk-bill" brand, weighed 22 1/2 pounds and was 35 inches in length. Larger salmon have been caught in Sebago with nets, one thus captured last spring weighing 35 pounds.

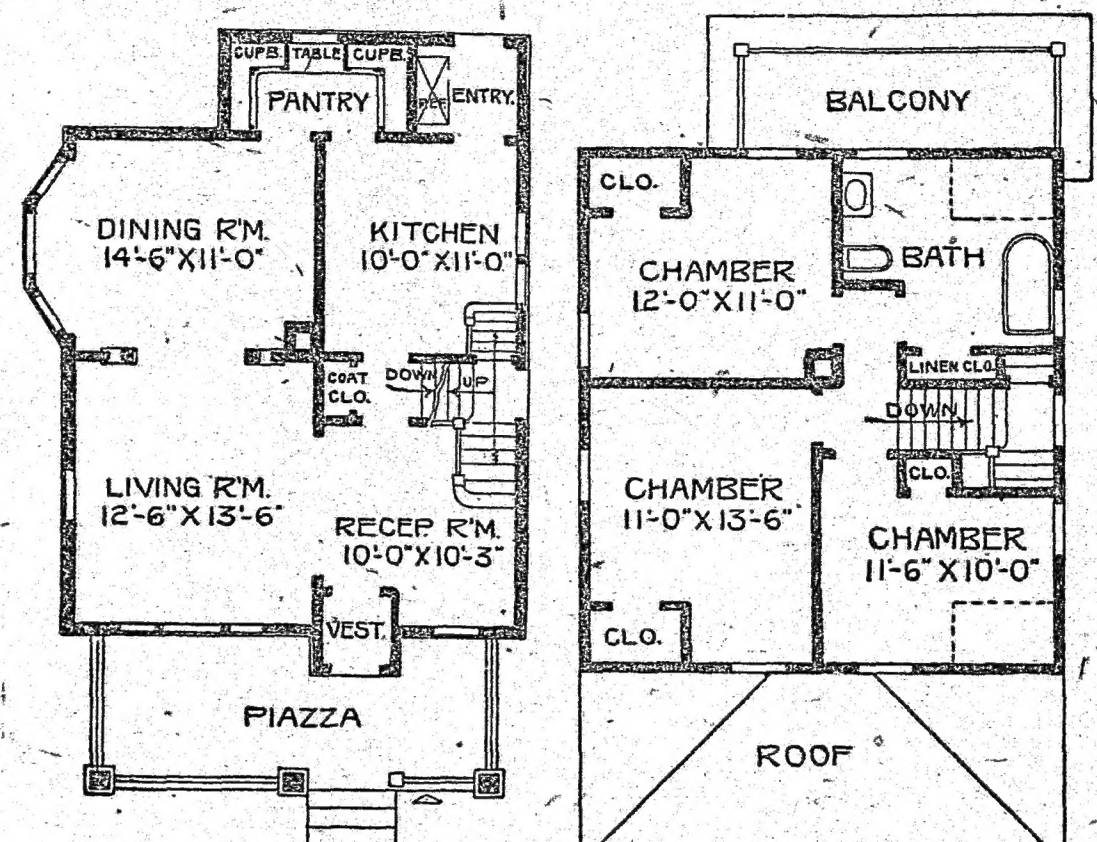

It is rumored that four or five men, who have been stopping at the Elms at Harrison, are looking over the Summit Spring property in view of buying it.

A Small and Complete Dwelling.

Design 821, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

In this small design of a cottage everything is incorporated that goes to make a home complete. The first story has the reception hall opening together with the living room and has a coat closet in passageway between reception hall and kitchen; also a combination stairway leading to the second story from hall and kitchen, with outside grade doors underneath same. Dining room has a projecting bay window. In the second story there are three good sized chambers, besides a large bathroom, good closet space and large linen closet in the bathroom. Balcony over the kitchen extension. First story nine feet and second story eight feet. Birch floors throughout. Washington fir or birch finish throughout first story and pine to paint in second story. Cost to build, exclusive of plumbing and heating, $2,175. Size, 24 by 28. If one desires the cottage could be built 28 by 28 feet, keeping the rooms in the same proportions, for about $350 additional.

By special arrangement with me the editor of this paper will furnish one complete set of plans and specifications of design No. 821 for $15.

LAMPS FOR LIGHT.

How to Get the Most Illumination From Them.

The lamps should first be collected from every room and all put together on a large tray in the kitchen. Then a big wooden box is brought out, which contains greasy cloths, soft cloths, a pair of old gloves, wick rakes, scissors, charcoal leather and chimney cleaners. Opinions are divided as to whether a wick should be cut or rubbed down. The best way is to rub it down with a bit of rag, which should be burned and not put back in the box, and then any stray ends of cotton cut off with scissors. Great care should be taken to hold the burner, well away from the lamp when the wick is rubbed down, otherwise the charred portions are apt to fall on to it.

Once a month the burners should be boiled. Remove the wicks and then place the whole of the burner, first releasing its various portions from one another, in a saucepan of water with a little soda and bring to the boil. Twenty to thirty minutes boiling will make the burners as bright as ever they were, and should any black still adhere it can be removed with a hatpin. After which the burner is boiled up again. Of course a saucepan must be kept specially for this, and it should be either plainly marked or kept away from other culinary utensils. The burners must be thoroughly dried and if possible put in the sun for a few minutes. Meanwhile the wicks must have been seen to. If very dirty they should be washed out in clean suds, but usually a thorough drying in the sun or in a warm kitchen will put them in condition for burning properly. It is extremely important that they should be quite dry before being put back into the oil.

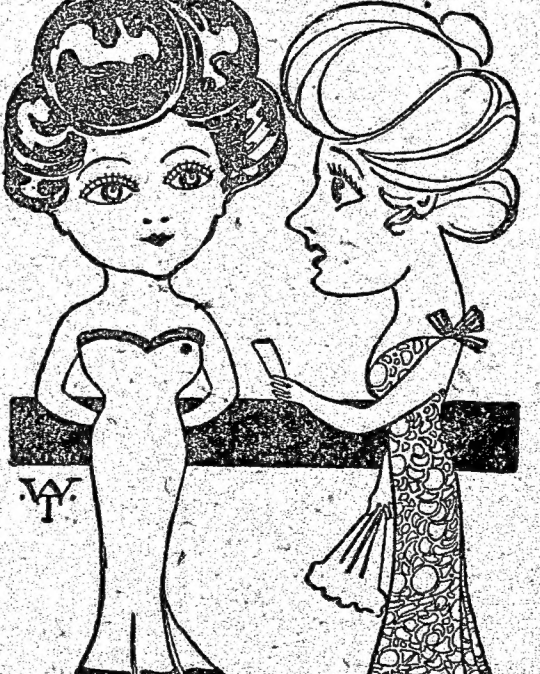

Daily cleansing of every lamp in use should be as much a part of the housewife's duties as making the beds. Another precaution to take to prevent wicks from smoking is to boil them. Buy them in bunches, place in a porcelain kettle, cover with strong vinegar, bring the latter to a boil and set where the kettle will keep warm for three hours. Drain out the wicks dry thoroughly and keep from dust. Wicks thus soaked rarely smoke.

If chimneys are bought in quantity and boiled they also may be prevented in a great measure from breaking. Lay some shavings in the bottom of a wash boiler, pack in the chimneys, throw a handful of salt over them and fill with cold water. Allow to come to a boil slowly, simmer for two hours, then take from the fire. Cover thickly, bring the latter to at least three hours in cooling. When cold wash the chimneys in hot water in which a little soda has been dissolved. Rinse in hot water, dry and store in a cupboard. Chimneys so treated are also washed in hot soda water.

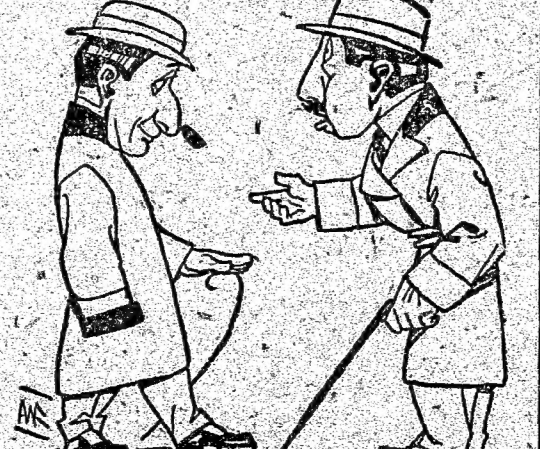

Marion—I accepted nearly a hundred proposals at the seashore last summer. Myrtle—Pshaw! You are joking. Marion—No, I'm not. Every time a young man proposed soda or ice cream I accepted.

An Expensive Luxury.

Lorraine—Can you break a bill? Louise—I can break anybody. His name doesn't necessarily have to be William.

A Case of Realizing.

Harold—Say, old boy, do you realize you owe me $3.25? Reginald—Yess, I realize, but can you?

Fryeburg.

Twaddle Brooks.

At Mettalluk Island, in Uppasag Lake, the summer home of Harry Dutton, amid most picturesque surroundings of mountain and lake and forest occurred the baptisms of Dr. Widd Brown Twaddle of Fryeburg and Addie Agnes Brooks of Uppasag, Wednesday at high noon. Nature lent every attraction to enhance the beauty of the scene. The island was an emerald gem in the silver setting of the lake, over which gaily decked motor boats conveyed the guests from lakeside to the house. The house was beautifully decorated with evergreen, ferns and flowers. In the spacious living room were flowers in profusion. The fireplace was banked with roses and at one end an arch was formed of evergreen and bride roses.

The bridal party entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Eva Twaddle, sister of the bridegroom. The bride's attendants, Mrs. Gerry Brooks, Mrs. Charles Fox, Ethel Richardson and Ethel Warren, formed an aisle with white satin ribbons. Mrs. Harry Brooks, matron of honor, preceded the bride, who was accompanied by her father until met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Gard Twaddle. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Skinner, pastor of the Congregational church, Colabrook, the double ring service being used.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of white accordion plaited messaline and lace. She wore a veil fastened with a bride's rose and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The matron of honor was charming in crown silk and princess with a collar of pearls and carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies. Mrs. Brooks, mother of the bride, was attired in white silk. The ushers were Gerry Brooks, Harry Brooks, Grover Brooks and Chas. Fox.

A reception followed the ceremony after which wedding breakfast was served in the dining room, which was beautifully decorated. The tables were exquisite with carnauctions, bride roses and smilax. Refreshments were lobster salad, chicken croquettes, French peas, Parker House rolls, punch, ice cream, coffee and cakes. The bride cut the cake and Mary Abbott found the ring. Gard Twaddle, the silver, and Dr. John Twaddle, the thimble.

The many beautiful wedding gifts were displayed in the living room.

The bride's traveling gown was blue cloth with Persian trimming, with hat to match.

Amid a shower of rice and confetti and other manifestations of solicited friends the happy couple went by boat to Lakeside, where an auto was in waiting.

Mrs. Twaddle, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adana Brooks, is a beautiful and accomplished young woman with a most winsome personality. Learning for Women.

Learning for women should never cause discontent in the home. It is inevitable that the vast change in surroundings should change ideas of the girls, but why should we leave earth for the skies? Colleges, through education and broadening of the mind, should and will improve the women and future mothers of the nation with the importance of their influence on the home. Intelligence, forbearance, tact, a good understanding of character, and above all true womanliness, are the powers they are taught to possess and to use. A girl who has these, or acquires them, will win the confidence and love of all around her. Is it a mere nothing to try each day to do some small act of kindness for others in the family? And how welcome a little thoughtfulness on the part of another—a ray of sunlight in the dark. Like sunbeams these kindly acts will accumulate, added to day by day, till they form an agreeable beacon of light shining to everyone in gloom and despondency. And what will this beacon light prove to be? The influence of some sweet, thoughtful, womanly woman.

The apple buyers say, and their statements are substantiated by the latest government reports, that the bulk of the apple crop this year will be supplied by the New England and Pacific states and that good prices should rule.

EAST PARIS.

A Sudden Death.
 This quiet neighborhood was somewhat shocked at the sudden death of George H. Hardy, which occurred early Friday morning, July 1.
 He was out mowing the day before, a few hours in the forenoon, and complained of not feeling well in the afternoon. After going to bed he was quite distressed and did not go to sleep. His wife proposed to telephone for the doctor but he told her to wait till morning and if he wasn't any better she might send for him, but he passed away in less than half an hour.

There was a gathering at the home of F. L. Millett on July 4th, of friends and relatives. There were 28 present including children and babies. A long table was spread and loaded with green peas, strawberries, blueberries and all the other good things. Ice cream and cake were served later on. Music, vocal and instrumental, by W. W. Maxim, who also read several original poems.

EAST HEBRON.

East Hebron celebrated the Fourth of July in a royal manner, band concerts, races, wrestling matches, base ball games, etc. In the forenoon the principal feature was a ball game between the T. T's of East Hebron and the Chase's Mill's team, resulting in a score of 13 to 2 in favor of Chase's Mills. In the afternoon was a game, East Hebron vs. Buckfield High school, score 12 to 6 in favor of B. H. S. In the wrestling match between Regie Eastman and Leon Skillings, Regie Eastman won. Won over Chas. DeCoster and Carl Monk.

Hints on Raising Goslings.

There are a few don't's to be observed in the care of the goslings; if these are hard to miss, if they are observed, there is no difficulty, and the goslings are easier raised than chickens.
 Don't keep goslings in the sun; their coop must be sufficiently shaded. Don't have a wooden floor in the coop; many a gosling has had a dislocated leg from slipping on board floors. Don't give them free range early. The very young gosling will follow anything that moves, and travel long distances from its mother. Don't fail to give chopped green feed from the very first. Bread and milk with dandelion leaves is a good first feed.
 Don't let them get wet. Give the drinking water in a fountain into which they can only get their bills. Keep coasts gravel or grit near their feeding place and mix in the first few feeds a little grit. If the goslings don't eat at first, bread pills are sometimes put down their throats. Don't feed for at least 24 hours. Don't let them get chilled. Don't let them sleep in a dirty place; move the pen to fresh grass frequently. Don't fail to keep an eye on the hen that is hatching goslings. There is danger of a gosling being trampled in the nest, and that the hen may refuse to own it, either pecking it to death or deserting the nest. If the hen seems uneasy, wrap the gosling in flannel as soon as hatched, and put in a dry, warm place. Dryness, warmth, food, outdoor air and exercise will bring nearly every gosling hatched to maturity.

SCIENCE ON THE SOIL.

An Increase of Yield Obtained by Chemical Treatment.

This is the age of scientific farming. Take the results from grain by the application of phosphates to the soil. The lack of phosphates is not limited to the older sections of the country. In Wisconsin, for example, it has been customary in the wooded districts to clear but small fields and crop these fields continuously for a number of years very largely to grasses for hay, chiefly timothy. This practice has had the effect of greatly reducing the available phosphates of the soil, and in such cases exceptional care will be needed to restore the supply of available phosphates.

In the spring of 1908 a farmer in Wisconsin made an extensive experiment with phosphate on clay land which had not given satisfactory yields the preceding year. For this purpose he purchased four tons of acid phosphate, using it on oats seeded to clover and on corn in three different amounts—namely, 100, 200 and 400 pounds per acre. The result of this experiment is given in the following quotation from a letter from the experimenter:

"I am of the opinion the grain (oats) was thicker on the ground, and there were more oats at thrashing than where the fertilizer was not used. On the heavier soils the difference was apparent very early in the season, and later on, when the grain headed out, the pieces could be picked out readily, the stand was thicker and more uniform—in fact, some of it was as nice oats as I ever saw stand up. I found that where we used 100 pounds it was somewhat better, when 200 pounds were used it was very much better, and when we used 400 pounds the best results were obtained. The benefit was even more apparent in the corn

than in the oats, the stand was far better and more vigorous, towering above the other beside it, and the color, too, was different, being a rich green of a darker hue."

Similar experiments have been made in Illinois and Ohio. The cuts here presented show the beneficial effect of acid phosphate on corn. An increased yield of large and well filled ears resulted where phosphate was used compared with a light yield and nubbins where none was used.

Electricity on Farms.
 Electric power companies are being formed in Pennsylvania and other eastern states which are thickly settled to supply light and power to farms. One Philadelphia company is now making contracts over six counties.

Black and White Lungs.

In the museum connected with the Edinburgh University is an exhibit that is a striking object lesson of fresh air. A professor has secured the lungs of an Eskimo, a London man and a coal miner. He has preserved by chemical process the different sets of lungs, and they are side by side in a glass case. The Eskimo's lungs are of a pure white color, the Londoner's a dirty brown and the coal miner's lungs are a jet black. The Eskimo had kept his lungs clean, not because he knew more about breathing than the Londoner or the coal miner, but because he lived in a land of snow fields and spent his time in the open air.

Learning for Women.

Learning for women should never cause discontent in the home. It is inevitable that the vast change in surroundings
should change ideas of the girls, but why should we leave earth for the skies? Colleges, through education and broadening of the mind, should and will improve the women and future mothers of the nation with the importance of their influence on the home. Intelligence, forbearance, tact, a good understanding of character,
and above all true womanliness, are the powers they are taught to possess and to use. A girl who has these, or acquires them, will win the confidence and love of all around her. Is it a mere nothing to try each day to do some small act of kindness for others in the family? And how welcome a little thoughtfulness on the part of another—a ray of sunlight in the dark. Like sunbeams these kindly acts will accumulate, and in a season of light
till they form one great beacon of light shining to everyone in gloom and dependency. And what will this beacon light prove to be? The influence of some sweet, thoughtful, womanly woman.

EAST PARIS.

A Sudden Death.

This quiet neighborhood was somewhat shocked at the sudden death of George H. Hardy, which occurred early Friday morning, July 1.

He was out mowing, the day before, a few hours in the forenoon, and complai-
ed of not feeling well in the afternoon.
After going to bed he was quite distressed and did not go to sleep. His wife proposed to telephone for the doctor but he told her to wait till morning and if he wasn't any better she might send for him, but he passed away in less than half an hour.

There was a gathering at the home of F. L. Millett on July 4th, of friends and relatives. There were 28 present including children and babies. A long table was spread and loaded with green peas, strawberry shortcake and all the other good things. Ice cream and cake were served later on. Music, vocal and instrumental, by W. W. Maxim, who also read several original poems.

EAST HEBRON.

East Hebron celebrated the Fourth of July in a royal manner, band concerts,
races, wrestling matches, base ball games, etc. In the forenoon the principal feature was a ball game between the L. T. L's of East Hebron and the Chase's Mill's team, resulting in a score of 13 to 2 in favor of Chase's Mills. In the afternoon was a game, East Hebron vs. Buckfield High school, score 12 to 6 in favor of E. H. S. In the wrestling match between Reggie Eastman and Leon Skillings, Reggie Eastman won. Leon won over Chas. DeCoster and Carl Monk.

Hints on Raising Goslings.

There are a few don't's to be observed in the care of the goslings; if these are hard to raise, if they are observed, there is no difficulty, and the goslings are easier raised than chickens.

Don't keep goslings in the sun; their coop must be sufficiently shaded. Don't have a wooden floor in the coop; many a gosling has had a dislocated leg from slipping on board floors. Don't give them free range early. The very young gosling will follow anything that moves,
and travel long distances from its mother. Don't fail to give chopped green feed from the very first. Bread and milk with dandelion leaves is a good first feed.

Don't let them get wet. Give the drinking water in a fountain into which they can only get their bills. Keep coarse gravel or grit near their feeding place and mix in the first few feeds a little grit. If the goslings don't eat at first, bread pills are sometimes put down their throats. Don't feed for at least 24 hours. Don't let them get chilled.
Don't let them sleep in a dirty place;
move the pen to fresh grass frequently.
Don't fail to keep an eye on the hen that is hatching goslings. There is danger of a gosling being trampled in the nest, and that the hen may refuse to own it, either pecking it to death or deserting the nest. If the hen seems uneasy, wrap the goslings in flannel as soon as hatched, and put in a dry, warm place. Dryness, warmth, food, outdoor air and exercise will bring nearly every gosling hatched to maturity.

SCIENCE ON THE SOIL.

An Increase of Yield Obtained by Chemical Treatment.

This is the age of scientific farming. Take the results from grain by the application of phosphates to the soil. The lack of phosphates is not limited to the older sections of the country. In Wisconsin, for example, it has been customary in the wooded districts to clear but small fields and crop these fields continuously for a number of years very largely to grasses for hay, chiefly timothy. This practice has had the effect of greatly reducing the available phosphates of the

GOOD EFFECTS ON CORN FROM ACID PHOS-PHATE.

soil, and in such cases exceptional care will be needed to restore the supply of available phosphates.

In the spring of 1908 a farmer in Wisconsin made an extensive experiment with phosphate on clay loam
land which had not given satisfactory yields the preceding year. For this purpose he purchased four tons of acid phosphate, using it on oats seeded to clover and on corn in three different amounts—namely, 100, 200 and 400 pounds per acre. The result of this experiment is given in the following quotation from a letter from the experimenter:

"I am of the opinion the grain (oats)
was thicker on the ground, and there were more oats at thrashing than where the fertilizer was not used. On the heavier soils the difference was apparent very early in the season, and later on, when the grain headed out,
the pieces could be picked out readily,
the stand was thicker and more uniform—in fact, some of it was as nice oats as I ever saw stand up. I found that where we used 100 pounds it was somewhat better, when 200 pounds
were used it was very much better,
and when we used 400 pounds the best results were obtained. The benefit was even more apparent in the corn

WHERE NO ACID WAS USED.

than in the oats, the stand was far better and more vigorous, towering above the other beside it, and the color, too, was different, being a rich
green of a darker hue."
Similar experiments have been made in Illinois and Ohio.
The cuts here presented show the beneficial effect of acid phosphate on corn. An increased yield of large and well filled ears resulted where phosphate was used compared with a light yield and nubbins where none was used.

Black and White Lungs.

In the museum connected with the Edguburg University is an exhibit that is a striking object lesson of fresh air.
A professor has secured the lungs of an Eskimo, a London man and a coal miner.
He has preserved by chemical process
the different sets of lungs, and they are side by side in a glass case. The Eskimo's lungs are of a pure white color, the Londoner's are a dirty brown, and the coal miner's lungs are a jet black. The Eskimo had kept his lungs clean, not because he knew more about breathing
than the Londoner, or the coal miner,
but because he lived in a land of snow
fields and spent his time in the open air.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Children's Day Concert.
The Children's Day concert at the Universalist church June 26 was well given and brought forth the warmest expressions of approval from the congregation, nearly all asking that it be repeated. The concert took the place of the regular morning service. At 10.30 the younger classes of the school marched into the church.

After the opening chorus and the responsive reading led by the superintendent, Mrs. Emma H. Ham, the pastor, Mr. C. S. Whitely, and the choir, the daughter of Harry and Maud Mann. The pulpit platform was decorated with flowers and ferns and held a throne chair and other seats of honor.

Allice Schaner appeared dressed in white with a scepter tipped with a golden heart, representing the Angel of the flowers, and in her clear voice told of the Heavenly Father's wish that the children who gather to sing of the flowers might all learn the lessons the flowers would teach us.

She then summoned the helpers who brought forth the flowers. Mother Earth represented by Jennie Mann, Sunbeam represented by Hugh Pendexter, Jr., Rain and Dew represented by Muriel Ward and Esther Hutchins. These were dressed in colors suggesting the subjects impersonated. Each told of their part in bringing forth the flowers at the Heavenly Father's command and how gladly they obeyed His gracious will.

Then the angel of the flowers and the helpers were seated and the flowers summoned by Miss Schaner each to bring its message to the children.

Frances Bartlett dressed in yellow, as dandelion, brought a message of courage, especially of moral courage. Beryl Knight, as apple blossom, told how out of childhood's blossoming life may grow the fruits of deeds well done. Then came the Johnny-jump-ups represented by Harmon Ward, Edwin Gammon, Bruce Hosmer, Joe Merrill, Oscar Frost and Stevie Cummings. These spoke of the prompt obedience and cheer expressed by their early flower. The refrain of their chorus was pleasing:

"Johnny, Johnny, jump up, Johnny, jump up,
Though the cat comes early,
Do the thing you come to do,
And don't be cross and surly."

The forget-me-nots were represented by Madeline Hayden, Marion Downing, Myra Gammon, Ruth Libby, and Laurence Foster. These told in story and song to forget not all life's pleasant things, but throw away the rest. Myrtle and Beryl Millet sang a duet, "Sympathy," the message of heart's ease. Hazel Bicknell told how the water lily grows out of its dark surroundings to a bloom that is purity and sunlight. If we look to Christ so we shall grow pure.

The daisies were represented by Beryl Young, Frances Bartlett, Ruth Akers, Marion Sanborn, Virginia Mixer, Adeline DeCoster, Florence Harriman, Doris Brooks. They sang and used a long daisy chain woven by the children. A message of cheer and work through all weather. Beryl Millet sang a solo of the rose, a message of love bringing fragrance and beauty.

Then the Angel of the flowers commended the flower's messages to all as teaching the life of the Heavenly Father would have us live. Great credit is due to Mrs. F. E. Drake, Della Noyes, and Mrs. F. A. Danforth for the good training and appropriate costuming.

Hebron's Good Season.

Hebron Academy has ended one of the most successful baseball seasons in the history of the school. The baseball practice for the season began in the cage as early as May 1st.

The lack of winter material the first of the season kept everyone guessing as to what the prospects would be. Captain Stobie and Manager Cook worked incessantly to turn out a winning team and their efforts were all rewarded. From the championship team of 1909 there were only two men, but for next year's team there will be six veterans.

Hebron had a star battery this year in Edgar Curtis, Barr Patten, and Baker. Curtis and Patten pitched well ball and not once this season has Hebron been in any great danger of being beat. "Fat" Baker caught an errorless season and to him can be given a good share of the success of the season.

Toddle, Brown and Besse held down the base positions and held them down in faultless style. All three were on their toes every minute of play, snappy ball being their rule. Winston, a Hebron veteran, played his usual consistent game, at shortstop, and was a hard hitter.

In the field were sound Captain Stobie, Carl and Gilpatrick. It can be safely said that these are the best men Hebron has had in the game, for many years.

Not a single defeat record had Stobie. Not a single defeat when a team has met the best Preparatory school teams in the state. Portland High and Kent's Hill gave Hebron the best games.

TUMOR OF YEARS GROWTH

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Holly Springs, Miss.—"Words are inadequate for me to express what your wonderful medicine has done for me. The doctors said I had a tumor, and I had an operation, but was soon as bad again. I wrote to you for advice, and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you told me to do. I am glad to say that now I feel as well as my friends keep asking me what has helped me so much, and I gladly recommend your 'Vegetable Compound.'—Mrs. WILLIE EDWARDS, Holly Springs, Miss.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy—tumor. If you have mysterious pains, inflammation, ulceration, displacement, or any other trouble through the horrors of a hospital operation, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and such unquestionable testimony as the above proves the value of this famous remedy, and should give everyone confidence. If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

A Letter from a Worcester Subscriber.

DEAR EDITOR:—This date reminds me that my subscription to the Norway Advertiser has expired for the third time since living in this city and I can but say once more how much I value the Advertiser even though I have come to open it with a fear that some one else has passed from earth life so many have gone in three years. A poem came to my notice a short time ago the more to be appreciated as the years go by. The first verse is this:

"The days grow shorter, the nights grow longer,
The headstones thicken along the way;
And life grows sadder, but love grows stronger
For those who walk with us day by day."

And so it is that we respond more sincerely to the greeting of old friends. Only they who are alone in a great city can truly appreciate the meeting of an old friend, whom they have known in years gone by.

We have recently passed another Memorial day. Each year a small remnant of a great army moves to honor those who are at rest. Soon the last survivor of the Civil war will be spoken of.

The streets of Worcester were thronged on May 30, to view once more the procession of Veterans escorted by all the military bands and companies of young cadets and soldiers in the city. The Veterans marched proudly from their headquarters to the Soldiers' monument on the Common, where services were held before visiting the several large cemeteries.

My mind went back to the time of the war, when I was a child, and my memory of that terrible time is only from a child's standpoint, but I do recall that many another child was fatherless.

I thought of the small company of soldiers laid to rest in the graves of Oxford county, Maine, and the faithful few who will forever honor their memory.

It was recently my pleasure to visit Beverly, Mass., the summer home of President Taft. We walked along the sea wall near his house and saw his yacht, "The Sylph" lying at anchor. The President's home is on a narrow peninsula and almost entirely surrounded by a thick growth of trees. The one entrance is barred and guarded night and day by civil service men. No citizen, automobile or inquisitive person is allowed to pass these bars without permission from some authority, thus giving the president the seclusion which he needs and which he needs and which is rightfully his. He is much criticized by some of the church people for allowing such a worldly display on Sunday, but I thought it but proved that "the world do move."

Not long since I visited Still river in the nearby town of Harvard and with a party of friends I saw the house where Louisa M. Alcott lived when a child. In company with a friend, Mr. Alcott left the ministry and took up the study of Transcendentalism, a very long word meaning the knowledge of things by intuition and divine. There was so little financial result of this venture that the family was reduced to extreme poverty, and was forced in the dead of winter to move to the village of Harvard, where Mr. Alcott once more resided in seclusion and afterwards moved to Concord where the family grew more prosperous. The house at Still river is just like many a farm house of a hundred years ago. Once white it is now gray with age. There is a beautiful view of the hills from which Miss Alcott wrote and the same windows from which she looked. It was a beautiful view: the old-fashioned well-kept, the apple orchard, the fields, but Mr. Alcott's last days of life were something deeper than a dream.

Near my home is a beautiful hill called Green Hill Park. It was owned for many years by a family of that name. A mansion containing many rooms and surrounded by a wide variety of trees, commands a beautiful outlook. The farm comprised 1,100 acres and much money was spent to make it one of the most beautiful in the State.

The owners died and the city of Worcester bought the farm for a park, paying $54,000 for the whole.

The great house is now used for private parties who love to dance in the large ball room, and for a museum, always open to the public.

The upper rooms are used as a hospital or rest rooms for tired mothers and sick babies who are cared for from a fund annually given for this purpose. In this way many poor people are made happy and recover their health. Green Hill is 777 feet above sea level, and from the reservoir a glorious view of Worcester and the surrounding country is to be had.

Thousands visit here every Sunday, and still there is room for more. Not one day but several parties of here, and each party is disturbed by the other. It is said that no other city has so many beautiful parks, and each park is patronized by appreciative crowds on all Sundays and holidays. It is said that all nations are represented in Worcester, and the greatest fear is that the Jews are fast owning much desirable property. True it is that the Irish have a strong hold, and said it is that the native-born American is so rarely found, and growing weaker with each generation.

All physicians in Worcester have a sign on the front of their automobiles; a green cross on a white ground; for the reason that they need not be held up by the police for speeding when answering a hurry call.

One noticeable feature at this season of the year is the wild flower display never seen in Maine. A ride into the country brings us in contact with acres of blossoming pink and white mountain laurel and lavender wild geranium. The season seems to be two or more weeks in advance of Maine, especially in the early spring. In winter we do not have much snow; indeed it has not seemed like the winters in Maine, more like a long, mild, autumn.

In closing my letter let me wish long life to the Advertiser and much joy to its readers.

BRYANT'S POND.

The carpenters have commenced work on Tenmore Currier's new house. Bryant Pond defeated Greenwood in an exciting game of baseball. Score 5 to 4.

The Whitman Memorial Library has been opened to the public. Library hours, 2 to 5 p. m. Wednesday 2 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. Saturday of each week. Stella Barker Bacon is librarian. It is probably safe to say that there are few if any public libraries in the state, or any more attractive than the new building which has recently been opened to the public. The citizens of Woodstock certainly have reason to take a little pride in this new addition to the village and it is hoped that all citizens throughout town will avail themselves of it with advantage, which the library holds out to them.

GREENWOOD.

Rest This If You Can.

I have no paper to furnish in substantiation of the following story but repeat it exactly as it was told me.

Several years ago a man living in the vicinity received a few pumpkin seeds from a friend out West who advised him that they were a new and excellent variety, growing to a remarkable size. The party who lived here accordingly planted them in a field of yellow corn some distance from the house. After hoeing, he gave them no further thought until harvesting time, when going to the village one day he told his two boys to gather the pumpkins. Upon his return you may imagine his surprise to find no pumpkins in the barn and the boys still absent in the lower field. According to the next spring when the field was being plowed the cause of the delay. The boys were doing their best but the pumpkins were so large they had cut one in four quarters and had been left at the afternoon at the job and on the old man's arrival were going to roll one quarter into the cart with the yoke of oxen without success.

The pumpkins were not gathered. Shortly after this a sow was missing. Found. The next spring when the field was visited the old sow was found with twenty-one pigs in one of the pumpkins where she had wintered and the pigs averaged a hundred pounds in weight. Comment is unnecessary.

A child of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Yates has been seriously ill but at this writing is better.

With one or two exceptions previously closed, all schools in town finished the spring term of school last Thursday. On the whole we are safe in saying that the teachers have given the very best of satisfaction in all districts in the town.

F. F. McDaniels of Norway was in town, Saturday, June 25th, to deliver a piano he had sold to Sylvester Cole for the ball. He remained and played the instrument for the dance in the evening. One of the largest crowds on record were in attendance.

E. D. Packard has completed the seasons work on the roads in the Corner end of the town with the road workers. Owing to wet weather road building previous to this time has been practically impossible and our highways were sadly in need of repairs.

Greenwood base ball team went to Bryant's Pond, June 25 and were defeated in a very interesting game of ball by the score of 5 to 4. Both pitchers pitched great ball; Chase for Bryant's Pond having struck out while Hunt for Greenwood had seven. Chase had better support or the result would have been different.

Oxford Pomona Grange.

Oxford Pomona Grange was Wednesday, with F. H. Noyes, Jr. as guest. At the usual hour Worthy Master Gates called the meeting to order.

At the roll-call of Granges, Paris, Norway, Oxford, Bethel, Bear Mountain, Round Mountain, Crooked River, F. R. Robie, and Excelsior of Androscoggin County responded. An invitation from the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station to Oxford County Pomona to visit Highmoor Farm was read by the secretary, and it was voted to accept this invitation with instruction to subordinate Granges to talk matters up and report at next meeting. J. A. Roberts was instructed to correspond with director Woods in regard to the matter.

Resolutions adopted by Knox County Pomona were read. It was voted that the matter be laid on table for future discussion. Eight candidates received the 5th degree. E. F. Hitchings was called for and responded with a few remarks in regard to spraying. Demonstration to be given in a near by orchard immediately after dinner. Recess was declared and all repaired to the dining room, where the usual bountiful Grange dinner was served to some 125.

After dinner, all who were interested, went and saw the working of the spraying pump in charge of a gentleman from Michigan, after which the following program was presented: Music by Fredrick Robie Grange choir; reading, Mrs. A. N. Ryerson of Paris Grange; Question "How shall vocational training be provided for in our public schools?" if taught in what grades?" opened by Bro. Roberts, but further discussion was deferred to give more time for Mr. Hitchings who gave an address on diseases and insect pests which infest our orchards. Music by the choir finished the program.

The next meeting will be with Bear Mt. Grange, South Waterford, on the 1st Tuesday in August.

The National Universalist summer meeting will be at Ferry Beach Park, Old Orchard, July 29-Aug. 15. The meetings are in charge of Rev. Harvey H. Hoyt, and include sermons by able preachers; lessons on the Sunday school by Rev. J. Coleman Adams, D. D., of Hartford, Conn.; on the Y. P. C. U. by Rev. Harry R.
